BRIEFING

FUTURE FIRST MONTHLY BRIEFING

Please join us for the June Monthly Briefing Call

The Monthly Briefing

A one-hour conference call open to all.
Join the conversation or just listen.

FEATURED SPEAKER: THURSDAY, JUNE 12

Osprey Orielle Lake

Author and international environmental and peace advocate

The Women's Earth and Climate Action Network (WECAN), a project of the Women's Earth and Climate Caucus (WECC), highlights women worldwide as key innovators and agents of change in mitigating and adapting to climate change and environmental degradation. As founder of the WECAN and the WECC, Osprey Orielle Lake will speak about WECAN's guiding principles, the role of women in the climate justice movement, and some of the Direct Actions that have come out of their work. (Fact sheet at the Declaration website).

Time: 12:00 — 1:00 pm (Central Time)

Date: June 12, 2014 (2nd Thursday of the month)

Dial-In Information: RSVP to KButler@FutureFirst.us

Our Monthly Briefing is a forum for delving into concepts, resources and activities that are shifting our way of living and caring for the Earth. It's an opportunity to learn about ideas that support ecological, social and economic justice.

Each month, a guest speaker shares the focus of their work and organization — the successes and challenges, and the opportunities going forward.

To listen to past Monthly Briefings, visit our Declaration blog. There you will find audio recordings and resources from previous speakers.

The Monthly Briefing started at the 2012 Women's Congress for Future Generations as a way to further explore the concepts within the Declaration of Rights Held by Future Generations.

Now the Monthly Briefing will be hosted by Future First, who is organizing the 2014 Women's Congress in Minneapolis, November 7-9, an event designed to connect, inform and inspire action. Please plan to join us!

Feel free to share this newsletter. And as always, get in touch with any suggestions, thoughts or ideas of what we should explore!

Onward!
